Beautifully bound in muslin, 75 cants; neatly bound in pape 80 cents.

From the New York Commercial Advertiser.

Written with charming simplicity and fidelity to nature as producing powerful dramatic effects. If these of those raper of the workings of the novels from which much can be learned of the workings of thuman heart and the experiences of humble life.

From the New York tieraid.

It has already had an extensive run in England. In corresponding to the portraiture of character, geniality of humor, and benevole philosophy of aim, we have not for a long time met with a working has pleased us more.

Is told with delightful simplicity, abounds in interesting events, and grows in attractiveness to the close. Pervaded by tranquil beauty and natural feeling, as a novel for family reasing it is surpassed by tew productions.

From the Springfield Republican.

A very interesting story, written with that charming ea and unaffected confidence that mark a practical pen, and working, well trained brain.

From the Yaise County Whig.

It is a successful work and may be safely pronounced or of the best of Stringer & Townsend's Library of Standa Novels.

From the Troy Datly Eudget.

Novels.

From the Troy Daily Budget.

It is a powerfully written romance exhibiting alrong passion fine character drawing, and all the elements that go to make up an interesting story.
